

Traditional IRA Contribution Deductibility Limits

The IRS provides income ranges for determining an IRA owner's eligibility to deduct Traditional IRA contributions.

If an IRA owner or the owner's spouse was covered by a retirement plan at work during the year, the amount of the IRA contribution eligible to be deducted may be reduced, or phased out, until it is eliminated, depending on the individual's filing status and modified adjusted gross income (MAGI).

If neither the IRA owner nor the owner's spouse is covered by a retirement plan at work, the individual may deduct all Traditional IRA contributions, regardless of income.
